

A SAMPLING OF SOURCES

Where do you begin your search for masonic material? Word of mouth is the prevalent method among brothers, referring each other to favorite books, authors, podcasts, videos, and other forms of media. I've compiled a brief "startup" list of some authors and websites where you might start your search for light. The authors are ones that I have read and found credible and interesting, or that others whom I trust have recommended to me. The websites are ones that I have used in my research and where I have found credible and interesting information. This is not even close to a complete list and is not intended to be. It merely represents some recommendations based on my own experiences and those of thoughtful brothers.

1. Authors

Here is a brief list of some of the authors many consider reliable. It is not intended to be all-inclusive; it is just a list of authors I have read, and of authors recommended to me by learned brothers or who are cited by others in their own writings.
